PRemoteM Features: - Fully customizable GUI - Private log-free session data - Export all data, import it later, or manually export log files for further remote management - Permanent RSA-based security encryption - Access to multiple protocols - Access to a plethora of protocols - Free, open-source and customizable source code More Information: - - Promotion His name is Tigor and his number is 14. A month ago, on his first day of work, his number was 66. Since then, the cleaning crew has made such a mark that none other than the chief of the Railway Protection Force has nominated them for a national award. And they have no idea that they are in for a fight like no other. Tigor's story That was the day he jumped off the train, the one that's been called the pride of India, and sat among stinking urine and filthy slippers. As if that wasn't enough, he also had to contend with a group of obese passengers who followed him and abused him. And when a railway cop saw him, that was the last thing he needed - the man he was helping hurled some unguent on him and called him 'the little monkey'. But that day is long gone and now Tigor and his crew of 10 train cleaners are rising to the occasion. No order, no supervision. Just lots of wet cleaning. His supervisor is Captain P. Divakar and his trusted aide is Thanikkaapalla Pullaalanjothi Ganga, who is the real source of inspiration for the entire team. Watch the video to find out what lies in store for these train cleaners as they make a mark in Indian history.
