So I have been trying to figure out this problem for a while and cannot think of a solution. I am trying to create multiple objects that differ depending on if a condition is true or false. I am trying to populate a new object if a method of my program is equal to the value of my input from the user. I have posted all the code in order to be understandable. The program works and creates an object if the method is not equal to any of the input but when it comes to if statements I cannot find a solution for. I have tried to get rid of an "ifelse" statement altogether but I have come to a dead end because it seems like an ifelse statement is part of the solution I am looking for. This is what I have tried so far: I have tried to use loop over a few alternatives to the if statement. When trying the following code I get this error that I do not know how to solve. Error: (left) is not a vector: x for (i in names(x)){ if(x$keys()[i] == method){ pop_x[i] 6d1f23a050
