Can I protect my iPod with a Screen lock? Many third-party Screen lock programs are available. The programs can be purchased from different retailers or from online stores. Since iPod is an Apple branded product, it comes with a built-in screen lock functionality that is enabled by default. In order to use the screen lock functionality, the third-party program will first have to disable that functionality. Is there a way to adjust the screen brightness? There are two options available for this. The first option is through the Magnifier option and the second one is through your iPod itself. Magnifier option: While pressing the Menu button on your iPod, scroll through the list until you get to the iPod screen settings option. Then, switch to the Magnifier tab and select the extra brightness option. iPod keyboard shortcuts. iPod controls iPod keyboard shortcuts. From your iPod, you can also press and hold the menu button and scroll through the list of song names until you reach the option that looks like a slider and has a plus and minus sign beside it. A message may appear on your iPod screen while running the Magnifier option stating that its brightness cannot be adjusted. If this message appears, then the Magnifier option is not compatible with your 6d1f23a050
